

TAT-TOO MUCH!

An ambitious Indian Idol contestant from Mumbai offered a rather outrageous display of her affection for Anu Malek at the audition. Clearly obsessed with the music director, who's a judge on the show, she flashed her thighs to show off a tattoo of his name. She went on to recite a poem she had written for him and even expressed a desire to kiss him.

Anu politely refused the proposition and but only too glad to compose a tune for the poem. He offered a snug jaadu ki jhappi before sending her on her way. TNN
